Hello!

My name is Simon Thrower, I have been signwriting since 1976 in the steps of my father who started in the 1940's. It has come to my attention, that in the wake of modern technology and the retirement of many in the profession, that often Club Secretaries, Bursars and Managers are being advised that vinyl lettering is the only option for their Honours Boards, this is not so.

TRADITIONAL SIGNWRITING

Whilst I also use computer aided technology which assists, speeds up and adds great variety to the signmakers palette, the age of TRADITIONAL SIGNWRITING IS NOT DEAD. I am honoured to supply, update and add headings and crests to a wide variety of HONOURS BOARDS at Clubs, Schools, Colleges and Institutions. The lettering may be in plain colours, gold leaf or gold leaf with a black shadow, most Honours Boards are updated on site. For a long term record of achievements I don't believe you can better a traditionally brush painted sign. If you are fortunate enough to have a local, regular supplier, I trust you will forgive the intrusion. If you are currently reviewing your options please give me a call.

Yours Sincerely,

Simon Thrower
